Thomas Ramsey

Thomas Ramsey was spotted by Anonymous Comrade on Twitter helping another rioter get closer to the capitol:

Here he is in action. What is in that backpack?

High-resolution screen captures from the source footage at the capital confirm that WestMark Design & Construction is printed on Tom's jacket.

Unbeknownst to us, Tom decided to leave his photo on the WestMark Design & Construction About page, which allowed us to confirm his identity with the man at the capitol siege.

Conclusion

Far too much ink has been spilled about the nature of the Trump coalition and its street-fighting wings. Thomas Ramsey is one of many examples of the true composition of the right-wing of Amerikkkan politics; he is, like much of the reactionary movement that brought Trump into office, wealthy and white, a small business owner with the disposable income < <https://fivethirtyeight.com/features/the-mythology-of-trumps-working-class-support/>> to travel across the country for a political-rally-turned-failed-putsch. He does not live in a trailer-home, nor does he live in a rural community. He, and his millions of compatriots who cast votes and rallied for Trump, lives down the street in a suburb. The defeat of Trump did nothing to defeat the social forces that pushed Ramsey and others to assault the capitol. We must protect our communities from violent racists and nationalists, and this includes Ramsey.

UPDATE:

Tom Ramsey's neighbor Anna "fucking" Bader <<https://archive.vn/XhbiD>> has written to us express her discontent about her neighbor being recognized as one of the guys trying to forcibly overturn the 2020 presidential election.
